WHAT NOW?

John 20:19-29

I hope you had a blessed Easter in spite of all the limitations. I know if you joined Reverend Cathy for the Maundy Thursday celebration of the Last Supper, you were blessed and if you joined Joel for the Good Friday meditations, you were blessed. On Sunday we celebrated the resurrection of Jesus with outstanding music and the appearance of Mary Magdalene who told us how her life was changed by Jesus. From posts of sunrises to the Hallelujah Chorus, we celebrated Easter together, although apart.

Next Sunday, we are going to think about what follows. What followed for the disciples and followers of Jesus and what follows for us. What will follow in the next few weeks and what will follow once some or most of the restrictions have been lifted? Will we return to life as it was before the virus or will there be some form of new normal.

Next Sunday we will kick off a new series discovering what other members of our congregation have experienced during this time of isolation and what they have learned. I think you will find inspiration and hope as we face the future together.

May God bless and keep you,

Sharon
